INSTRUCTIONS TO THE PERSON ACTING AS A CLIENT

Mark is a thirteen-year-old boy. He is a grade seven pupil in a primary school in Nairobi. He recently transferred to this school from another school. He has a visual impairment that has affected his eyes although he can see and read with the aid of spectacles. From his childhood his sight was good, but he developed eye problem three years ago. He recently learnt that some of his cousins and uncles have got severe visual impairment. Mark is afraid since he does not want to become blind like one of her uncles. Sometimes he is not able to see objects at a distance. He has trouble reading and participating in class. He has been upset recently especially as his sight is failing. His doctor told him that if his sight continues to weaken then he will be taken to a special school for the blind. Mark has gone to see a counsellor for a counselling session.
