INSTRUCTIONS TO THE PERSON ACTING AS THE CLIENT

1. Rehearse the following excerpt which captures the content of what you will present to the counsellor in a simulated situation where you act as a client.
2. You have 15 minutes to rehearse.

Joseph is a 60 years old gentle man, a civil servant in the ministry of lands. He has been working there for the last forty-five years. He is preparing for retirement in the next two months and developing health complications lately. He is suffering from insomnia, hypertension, joint pains nausea and fatigued most of the time. He has several fears such as; fear of old age, he fears that his family may not accept him readily and that he might be very idle in the rural home he might die alone and lonely in the midst of many people, he fears that he might be the laughing stock in his village. He has his own regrets for not forming friends and establishing a business when he was capable. He is feeling like it is too late to start something, he is scared of being helpless and becoming a burden to his family. He is not ready for retirement yet and is planning to renew his contract with the ministry. He is referred to a workplace place counsellor for psychological support.
