11. Jaridi is a compassionate and dedicated rehabilitation center that has been operating as a community-based organization under the Ministry of Social Services since 2016. The center's primary mission is to lead rehabilitation programs tailored to support physically challenged individuals and individuals struggling with drug addiction in the region. With a holistic approach, Jaridi offers a wide range of essential services, including professional counseling, provision of wheelchairs, medical assistance, and coordination of referrals to medical facilities, particularly for complex cases requiring specialized care. In addition to these critical services, the center also empowers individuals who have completed their rehabilitation journey through business training and financial assistance. Jaridi is committed to not only supporting individuals on their path to recovery but also ensuring that families are equipped with the necessary spiritual, social, and moral support to facilitate the successful reintegration of their loved ones into society. Addressing serious violations of human rights, such as cases of rape, physical, and mental torture, is another vital aspect of Jaridi's work, with the center actively seeking legal recourse in extreme cases to ensure justice and protection for those affected.
